Personnel file from the 360-degree feedback

A personnel file, in which the results of the questionnaire, amongst other things, are stored, is created for all participants in a survey directly after the survey goes live. Since only those data that were entered in the course of the survey are transferred, all the functions for the personnel file, to which more information can be added, are available when the survey goes live. Why not give it a try?

The following fields are transferred to the file from the 360-degree survey:

- Business e-mail address
- First name
- Surname
- Personnel number
- Short name, if available
- Status as employed
- Native language
- Company
- Department
- Superior
- Profile as an employee without administrative access
- Results from the survey

All other fields can now be populated directly and stored. In this way, the personnel file is gradually filled with information.

A new tab is also added to the personnel file: 360-degree feedback. All the results from previous surveys are stored here.
